London 28th August 1834.

Rev. S. May Jnr.

Dear Sir

I have much pleasure in forwarding you by our friend William Wells Brown a few copies of the pamphlet Report of the recent Anti Slavery Conference held at Manchester. Perhaps an opportunity presents itself, you will kindly forward the directed pamphlets to the persons to whom they are addressed. If you incur any expense in doing so pray inform me that the Manchester Society may remit the money to the New Contributions to the Boston Bazaar.

I rejoice to say that our recent Meetings have been in the highest degree, successful. They were, I trust, the commencement of a new era of revival and success, for the long prostrated Anti Slavery cause in this country.

The need of our Meetings had long been felt, and their [illegible] justified our belief that, despite the existing apathy there is yet an important section of the British public which, if its rights were once employed, would become actively engaged in the great and good work of Negro Emancipation. You may not have had the opportunity of observing the fact that not a few persons, and [illegible] of influence regard our Meetings as the beginning of a new national movement. The London Patriot (an organ of the Dissenters, edited by Josiah Conder) professes to find in that alleged fact the cause of the absence from our Conference of any representative of the British, and Foreign Anti Slavery Society. Although we had no such object in view it is not improbable that the supposition of Mr Conder may be realised.

We shall now await the issue of the Conference of the B.F.S. Society, which is to be held in London sometime during the month of November. Few persons are sanguine of, I might say, deluded enough to imagine that that Meeting will effect a union between the antiquated Committee of New Broad Street and the Abolitionists of the Garrison School. True, they might perhaps agree to co-operate with each other to a certain extent, but no union of their forces could take place without a Compromise; — and Compromises be-hate because they are mean, treacherous and enemies of the truth. An organization of our own will, I believe, be the order of the day, both us after the November Conference, unless an extraordinary light should dawn upon New Broad Street.

Might I also ask of you the favour to forward to Mrs Destouches this small parcels which I enclose your parcels. —

I am now in London for a few days spending my time as usual under the roof of our beloved friend George Thompson. We are about to negotiate our plans for the Winter Please to present my kind regards to W. Howey, and Mr. Mc. Kim, both of whom I have the pleasure of knowing. —

In conclusion permit me to express my earnest sympathy with the persecuted Colored of yourself, and your fellow-workers in the sacred cause of human freedom. —

I am, dear Sir,
Yours respectfully
Fred. M. Chelson.
